

The Buffalo Connection

Milligan students past and present

ALUMNI are one of the greatest resources for career service centers!

Remember your college days when you were trying to decide what career best fit your interests and talents? Wouldn't it have been great to have some advice and help from people already working in your field? Milligan's Center for Calling and Career Exploration now does just that. We're currently developing a mentoring program to help connect our current students with alumni who are working in careers the students intend to pursue.

How can you help?

Alumni Networking Fair @ Homecoming

Consider talking to our students Friday afternoon during Homecoming. They'd love to gain useful career advice from you!

Campus Visits

If you're not able to make it for Homecoming but know that you'll be in the Milligan area, consider meeting with students one afternoon or evening to discuss their vocational journey.

MonsterTrak Connections

If you don't think that you'll be visiting Milligan anytime soon, please consider allowing our students to contact you for career advice. You can give as much assistance as you're able and can designate how students should contact you (phone, email, etc) and what type of questions students should ask of you. If you have a number of contacts within your community, consider connecting students to future employers. If you've taken a well-trod path to your career, let students know the wise way to walk in pursuit of their dreams. They'll be grateful!

Hometown Visits

We plan to bring students to different regions of the country to visit with alumni living in those areas. Please consider meeting with students if we come to your area. An hour meeting could provide students with names of potential employers or internships, as well as solid advice about pursuing the career you've chosen. Or if you enjoy hosting students, consider opening your home as they visit your region to participate in interviews and mock interviews.
