ARTS & HUMANITIES

Milligan provides a uniquely integrated curriculum of liberal arts studies with professional preparation. Students receive a foundation for a lifetime of finding meaning in the past, making informed judgments on the present, and preparing for a meaningful future.

COMMUNICATIONS Students prepare to work in various specialties of today's media and to adjust to the inevitable changes ahead. The curriculum blends critical analyses, theoretical issues, and practical skills, all with real-world experience through the campus radio and TV stations, student newspaper, and professional internships. Concentrations in Digital Media, Cinema, Interpersonal & Public, Multimedia Journalism, Public Relations & Advertising.

ENGLISH Through dynamic classroom discussion and personal advising, English majors develop writing and editing skills for a variety of professional settings, hone the critical skills necessary in graduate programs, and attain teaching skills to cover a broad range of courses.

FINE ARTS Students develop God-given talents by learning skills, theories, principles, technologies, and current trends. They showcase their work in local galleries and juried shows, independent film festivals, mainstage productions in our state-of-the-art theatre, the award-winning Theatre for Young Audiences, and the annual Festival of One Act Plays and Short Films. Concentrations in Art, Cinema, Music, Photography, Theatre Arts.

GRAPHIC DESIGN Graphic designers learn how to apply their creative process and aesthetic direction for work that communicates visually.

HISTORY In an age skeptical of tradition and infatuated with the contemporary, the study of history helps to broaden the student's world, leading to a richer understanding of the human condition in its various cultural, economic, and social contexts. History majors develop, research, and write a thesis.

HUMANITIES Humanities majors create a personalized, interdisciplinary major that helps them see the relationships between subjects. Concentrations in American Studies, Pre-Modern World, Faith & Arts, and Theology.

MUSIC Lovers of music, accomplished performers, and avid music aficionados perform in choirs, vocal ensembles, and orchestra. Performers have the opportunity to go on tour, present world premieres, and perform with internationally renowned composers and musicians with regional symphonies.

SPANISH Students develop communicative competency in Spanish, studying history, cultures, and literatures of the Spanish-speaking world.

OFF-CAMPUS STUDY PROGRAMS

Our off-campus options span six continents and countless cultures. We educate men and women to be leaders in a global economy and to have a solid grasp of international issues, including cultural, social, economic, and political differences.

SUCCESSFUL GRADUATES

Our graduates have taught in public and private schools and colleges; served as journalists, editors, and creative writers; worked for NASA, CNN, Skillshare, and Dreamworks SKG; conducted professional music organizations, taught studio music, performed professionally, and served in music ministry; practiced law; worked in PR, marketing, and business. Some have pursued graduate studies in architecture, English, theology, library science, music, and medical school.
